Leora Jones was the daughter of Charles B. and Ethel (Walker) Jones. The Jones farm was located about two miles north-east of Arden, MO (see Point “O” on the page 8 map). On May 24, 1937, Leora and Lawrence Hartley were married in Ozark, Christian County, MO, to the west of their family homes. On August 9, 1938, the couple had a child, Marion Leon. Marion was the third grandchild of Grandma Ira and Grandma Mintia (Gunnels) Hartley.

At some point Lawrence and Leora separated, and Leora was granted a divorce on November 7, 1940. Leora married Clyde Allen on September 6, 1941. Marion was raised by Clyde and Leora in Douglas County until around 1951 when the family moved to Twin Falls, ID.

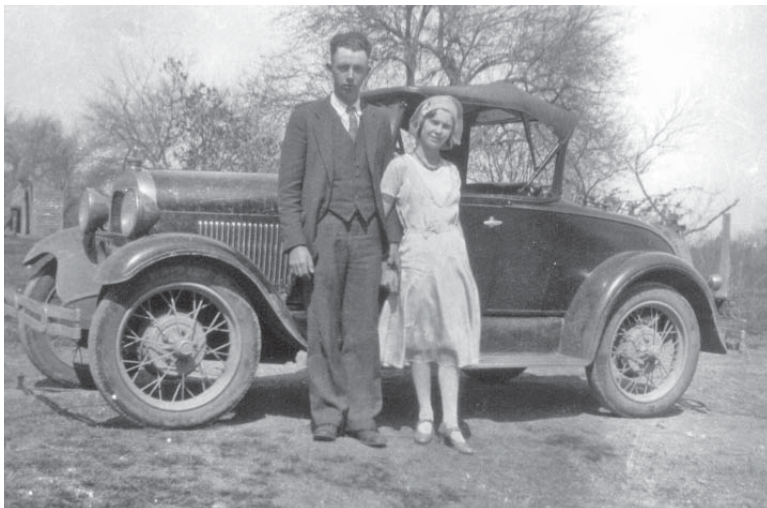

Marion spent the rest of his life in Idaho. He married his high school sweetheart Fern Tattersall on September 12th, 1957, and they made their home in Twin Falls, Idaho. They were blessed with three children Frederick Leon Allen (1958), Daniel Clyde Allen (1961) and Angela Fern Allen (1969). Sadly Marion died on December 1st, 2006 after a short battle with cancer, he was only 68. He is missed by all that knew him.
